Application Process

In Alberta, it is the school authority, not the Alberta government that is responsible for the admission of international students. The school authority will provide you with information on its application process and specific admission requirements. Once you have been accepted to a school you may apply for a study permit with the Department of Citizenship and Immigration Canada (CIC) of the Government of Canada.

Local school authorities also help students find the right program for them, including English language learning support, an appropriate combination of academic and options courses, as well as any recreational activities of interest to the student.

Begin planning early to find the right school, obtain a study permit and complete the application process. The following websites will be useful for general information and application forms.
